1 Mykonos Blu, Mykonos

Good for: Sexy show-offs

As if built purely to play backdrop in those raunchy-but-ravishing music videos (the ones where gorgeous girls writhe on white day-beds beneath a fearsome sun), Mykonos Blu is as handsome as island hotels come. Instead of rooms, there are 'island bungalows' smattered across gardens of cactus, yucca and palms, overlooking gorgeous Psarou Bay below. Popstarbeautiful guests - predominantly Athenian weekenders - either lounge by the cubist whitewashed pool (see left), bask on the beach atop aforementioned sexy day-beds, or take refuge for lunch at L'Archipel, the shaded poolside bar. Pack your most flattering swimsuit, slop on the SPF and join them...

Get me there: Mykonos Blu (00 30 21072 80433, www.grecotel.com) has doubles from £257, B&B. EasyJet (www.easyjet.com) flies from Gatwick and Luton to Athens.
