DESTINATION

Corfu's natural beauty lies in a richness of velvet green cypress trees; silver olive groves and mountainous skylines that plunge into the bluest of waters. Italianate architecture, golden beaches, enchanting nightlife, and fine cuisine all play their part in attracting visitors from all over the world. With a welcome as warm as the sun, the renowned Greek reputation for hospitality makes any visitor, young or old, feel more than at home. Corfu Town itself is a contrasting combination of old and new that exist side by side in perfect harmony offering something for every taste. An abundance of sandy and pebbled beaches line the 200 km coastline, as does the clear blue water, ideal for swimming and water sports. Exploration of the island rewards visitors with some of the most spectacular scenery and breathtaking views. A trip into the heart of the islands villages offers insight into the traditional Corfiot village life. In some places, time seems to have stood still and everyday life carries on much as it had for hundreds of years. Although the island is constantly developing to cater to the demands of today's tourist, Corfu continues to retain its beauty and charm. The majority of the island remains largely unspoiled by mass tourism and remains as captivating as it has for centuries. Whether you are looking for the hustle and bustle of nightlife, or peace and tranquility, everything you could need is here just waiting to be discovered.

WITHIN 10 MINUTES OF THE RESORT The National Art Gallery

At close reach, just 3 kms from the hotel, is the National Art Gallery "Alexandros Soutzos" featuring Art Exhibitions from a variety of renowned artists, both Greek and international. The gallery is accommodated in the "Castello", a building of historical importance, in the heart of Kato Korakiana Village.

The Gouvia Marina

Gouvia Marina, the first privately owned marina in Greece, is situated about 3 kms from the hotel. In the 17th century Venetian seamen selected the area of Gouvia as an ideal location for creating a naval station and ship-yards, remains of which have survived in the region. This tradition has been maintained until today while sailing yachts and motor boats from all over the world arrive at Gouvia Marina, enjoying the beauties of the sea and the environment, the cool breeze and the beautiful island of Corfu.

Today, Gouvia not only features the remains of the Venetian shipyards, which are a point of historical interest, but is also a lively resort with various dining and nightlife alternatives, popular with locals but also visitors of all nationalities.

The Resort of Dassia

Dassia is an atmospheric, lively place, popular with younger couples, groups and water sport enthusiasts. Dassia is just 3 kms from Corfu Town on the east coast of Corfu with views across the sea to the mountains of Greece and Albania. Popular Dassia beach is long, quite narrow and a mix of shingle and pebbles. The water at is exceptionally calm and flat. It has become a popular Corfu resort with a reputation for quality water sports including waterskiing, windsurfing and parascending. Dassia is on a flat coastal plain and is surrounded by low verdant hills that invite exploration by bike or car..

WITHIN 20 MINUTES OF THE RESORT

Paleokastritsa

Paleokastritsa is situated 12 kms north-west of the hotel and has long been considered one of the most beautiful villages in Corfu and is a renowned Greek beauty spot. It is chiefly memorable for the exceptional scenery along with the superb beaches. It has six different secluded sand and fine pebble beaches enclosed by tall cliffs, wooded headlands, olive groves, lemon and cypress trees and lush hilly countryside.

The island's favourite monastery is the charming Theotokos monastery, situated in the 13th century Venetian Castrizza San Angelo, located at a peak just above the main beach of Paleokastritsa itself.

Lakones

A charming, quaintly traditional village that is situated at a height in the mountainous land above the area of Paleokastritsa. Here visitors arrive from afar to enjoy the captivating, panoramic views of the Ionian as well as one of the most renowned sunsets in Greece.

The Town of Corfu

Located just 20 minutes or 14 kms from the hotel, Corfu Town (Kerkyra) is a principal port and the largest town in the Ionian islands. It is built between two Venetian castles, having its own unique atmosphere. It is a thriving mass of shops and businesses, set amongst a captivating and charming assortment of elegant buildings, churches, imposing fortresses and narrow alleyways leading to hidden squares. The tall buildings with the 'volta' (arches), the 'cantounia' (narrow flagstoned streets), the 'mouragia' (sea-walls) are showing all a clear Italian influence. The old Town of Corfu was announced as a Town of UNESCO in 2007, a fact of great significance.

Kanoni & Mouse Island

World famous Kanoni is situated south of the Palaiopoli peninsula. It was named Kanoni after the battery of artillery established by French in 1798. One of the battery's cannons still stands at the tourist kiosk. In front of Kanoni is the Monastery of Vlaherna, linked to the mainland by a cement dock and built in the 17th century. Just across from the Vlaherna monastery, is the verdantly green Mouse Island (Pontikonisi). This stunning view is perhaps the trademark of the island.

The Palace of Mon Repos

The land of Mon Repos has an extent of 258 sq. m. and takes up the biggest part of the hill of Analipsis where Paleopolis was located, the ancient town of Corfu. It is 3km from the center in one of the best locations of the island. Almost in the center of the garden is the imposing palace built in 1824 by the English commissioner Frederic Adam, as his summer resort. It is a grandiose building that was the rural house for every commissioner during the English domain. After the incorporation of the Ionian Islands with Greece, Mon Repo was given from the municipality to king George The First as his rural house. In this palace, in 1921, was born the Duke of Edinburgh Fillip Maunbaten, Elizabeth's husband. After the abolition of monarchy, Mon Repo, after long trial adventures, came to the hands of the municipality of Corfu and today operates as a museum.

Corfu Golf Club

The Corfu Club's beautiful course has been praised by many as one of golf's best kept secrets in Europe. It was designed by the famous Swiss based architect, Donald Harradine and he has blended the natural resources of the lovely Ropa Valley with man made hazards to make the course a good but fair test. It is as enjoyable for the scratch player as it is for the long handicap one.

Achilleion Palace (Palace of Sissy)

Located in Gastouri village 25 km from the hotel, this luxurious villa was built for the Empress of Austria, Elisabeth von Wiltelsbach (more familiarly known as Princes Sissy), by the Italian architect Raffaele Carito in 1892. The loved Queen whose life became a movie- gave preference to Corfu over all the other islands of the Ionian Sea, during her cruise in the Mediterranean islands. Today the palace acts as a museum, whilst the stunning, colourful gardens that surround it feature prominent statues such as that of the dying Achilles.

OTHER PLACES OF INTEREST SURROUNDING THE ISLAND

Paxos & Antipaxos

Paxos is a small island located south of Corfu. The island is the ideal place for those who love to sail, swim from the rare rock formations or trek through the olive groves. The main town is Gaios, a picturesque village with a lovely central square a well-equipped port and many restaurants and bars. South of Paxos there are two other small islands: Moggonisi and Kaltsionisi.

Antipaxos is located just 2 nautical miles south of Paxos Island.

It is totally unspoilt and wild and features truly stunning beaches with crystal clear waters.

Parga

On the western coast of Epirus, to the south of Sivota, to the north of the Acheron River, facing the Island of Paxos and Antipaxos lays Parga. Parga has a view of all of theses beautiful landmarks from above. This small town enjoys the auras and the sunrise of the Ionian sea from the majestic view of her castle.

Ioannina

Ioannina is the biggest city of Epirus and the capital city of the prefecture. Being built on the bank of Lake Pamvotis at an altitude of 500 m, it fascinates everyone with its beauty and its warm atmosphere. It is a lively city, which carries a history of centuries.
