

“Greek Cuisine Award” goes to Amirandes’s Xasteria
for third consecutive year

Amirandes, Grecotel Exclusive Resort, won the Golden Chef’s Hat for Best Greek Cuisine for the Cretan cuisine served by its exquisite restaurant, “Xasteria”. This is the third consecutive year that the glittering resort at Heraklion, Crete, has won the award.

The Golden Chef’s Hat awards for 2017 were presented at ceremonies held on February 13 at the Hotel Grande Bretagne in Athens. The annual awards are presented by the prestigious Athinorama magazines to the restaurants for outstanding contemporary or traditional Greek cuisine.

This year’s Greek Cuisine Award goes to a new team at Xasteria, proving that quality and excellence are core values of the Grecotel brand. The Xasteria kitchen brigade under Vangelis Fronimakis again raised the bar in true Amirandes tradition, flawlessly rendering the executive chef’s inspired creations with farm-fresh ingredients grown on Grecotel’s organic Agreco estate. It’s this attention to quality in even the finest detail that makes Xasteria so special.

Xasteria is the ultimate experience in Greek gastronomy, with a strong Cretan influence. Locally-sourced products from the traditional Cretan cuisine are the inspirational springboard for the creative dishes that earned Xasteria the award for best Greek cuisine again.
