

PALLAS ATHENA – Grecotel City Hotel in Athens ART in the heART of Athens

In the very heart of Athens, Grecotel Pallas Athena is the place where luxury and hospitality interweave to create a new experience: an art boutique hotel for luxurious city living. This 5-star luxury hotel is ideally located in the historical centre, next to Athens Town Hall, just a short walk from the Acropolis and New Acropolis museum, the old city (Plaka) and most of Athens sights and attractions. It is the ideal base for exploring the beautiful capital while enjoying top-notch accommodation: a truly one of a kind experience.

Grecotel, the leading luxury hotel group in Greece, known for its incredible handpicked interiors and close attention to art and design that emphasises the soul of each location, has proved to be the envy of many other design and boutique hotels. The Grecotel Pallas Athena appeals to anyone with an eye for design laced with a healthy dose of fun and whimsy. Whether you're a hipster, fashionista, silver surfer, yummy mummy, banker or eternal-kid the Grecotel Pallas Athena appeal reaches into everyone's soul.

A thoughtful restoration has unveiled an elegant and refined hotel with noble lines and a look of an aristocratic home, yet at the same time it is welcoming and comfortable. This is the central feature of this art hotel: being aesthetically luxurious while at the same time giving you the delightful sensation of feeling completely at home. Each of the 63 rooms (most of them suites) is individually designed and decorated for guests who seek exclusive accommodation to match their exacting standards.

Many of the famous 'graffiti' rooms from the Baby Grand (previous hotel name) with murals created by artists such as: this is my _b. world, Billy G, Stelios Faytakis, Dreyk the Pirate, Joe Villion, have been restored to their former glory and new chic art suites add a vibrant effect to the art boutique hotel. The Grecotel Pallas Athena is an exception to the rule that city hotels are not kid-friendly. A range of spacious family accommodation, including fairy tale graffiti-decorated suites, makes stays in Greece's capital fun for everyone.

There are impressive pieces of artwork and designer furnishings throughout the common areas and suites: with its unique exhibits, each room becomes a small private gallery, "yours" for a few days.

The elegant dining-room and lounge bar on the 1st floor, is the venue for the city's arts-appreciating crowd to consume and conceive new ideas and concepts. Prepare to experience delicious menus, sit back and relax in comfort or watch the world go by from the airy terrace. A unique gourmet culinary experience - brimming with sumptuous interpretations of Greek flavours awaits you!

Immerse yourself in the elegant and relaxing atmosphere at the Pallas Athena; let yourself be carried away by the beauty of the works on exhibit and Athens downtown luxurious living.
